

Mandel work helps access for all

Highland Park/ Steve Mandel should receive your vote for City Council on April 5.

I have always known him to be available and ready to go to work to make everything in the city more accessible.

Steve provided the leadership to start the community Web page that is hosted by the Highland Park Library. He is working to making it possible to pay bills and get permits online. Steve was instrumental in setting up a system where the public can download electronically the city agenda and the city council packet. This not only helps the community stay more easily in touch but also saves time and eliminates a lot of paperwork for staff.

We should re-elect Steve Mandel. He is effective and working for us!

Hollis Axelrod

Mandel, Brenner do good work

Highland Park/ In 40 years, I have been involved in many proposals that required Council approval. I have seen some really good representatives lose their seats and I felt compelled to express my respect for two candidates to be re-elected since they truly represent Highland Park with knowledge and experience.

Therefore, I urge a vote, first for Steve Mandel, credentials few have, and those who know him, sense the sincerity to do what is best for this town.

Michael Brenner, a man who is literally irreplaceable. He too is one we need. He is very involved with the future of Highland Park and is available to those who ask his help. My contacts with members of the Council have convinced me, and I'm sure others, that they are worthy to continue serving our community.

Helen Rothman