

Mandel is caring and thoughtful

Highland Park/ We would like to add our support to Steve Mandel's campaign for re-election.

We have resided in Highland Park for over 40 years and raised four children that attended our schools. We have had the opportunity to watch many new council members and, without any doubt, Steve is the best of the best. This is not to say that we do not have others that are excellent. Steve just leads the pack as a caring and thoughtful member that is always ready, willing and able to add his voice and support to programs that benefit our city and most important its residents.

He adds common sense and compassion to every issue he deals with. He is indeed a man of the people and for the people.

I have attended several meetings and have never been disappointed in Steve's actions. He must be re-elected to do the people's business in a time when there are so many important issues in front of the council.

If you want to retain an honest, caring, informed and experienced voice in the City Council, we must re-elect Steve Mandel.

Once again he has our support and our vote. We sincerely hope he will have yours.
