

Mandel willing to take a stand

Highland Park/ During his 12 years as a Highland Park City Councilman, Steve Mandel has shown that when there is an issue at hand, he is willing to get involved and take a stand.

One example is when Steve was the only Councilman that voted against the unfair 50 percent increase of the real estate transfer tax. Another was his initiative to spearhead the preservation and intergovernmental purchase of the 38 acres at the corner of Routes 41 and 22.

I urge the people of Highland Park to join me in supporting Steve Mandel by voting for him in the April 5 election.
